January 13, 2021 Version 1.7.5 I don't play this kind of game for the challenge, the mini mini The gifts or treasures - I play them because I love the process of the game. For some games, putting things in order, whether eliminating pieces efficiently or just moving towards a viable end goal. Most games start out pretty simple, because more fun than on impossible to reach - or at least impossible without the purchase of tools. I play some of these producer games & each have this core premise that I enjoy. Yes, tools are available with ads, but they're short & soundless (except for one game, but I'll see that right on that review site) and, I might - I've found other great games of seeing them. That's it. Download & enjoy. I really love this game! The animation and graphics are great and I love watching them. However, I do have a complaint. Every time I fill the bar so the monkey can do his thing, the moment I tap him to do it you flip me to an ad! By the time I can get back, he'll be all set! Can't you check the ad if I can see what he's doing? As mentioned above, I love the animation and graphics and would appreciate being able to view them. Otherwise I love this game and I think any adult or child would want it. Thank you for your consideration. I give it a 4.8 I really like this game, but sometimes a lot goes black or right in the middle of the shot it goes to the ad. Don't mind ads because they are short. Two big problems I got to the post soon and when it finally opened I lost all 250 games I played I was very very upset I had to play them all over. So now I'm back on a coming soon I hope I don't lose my 300 games that I will remove this game. My game says soon that was a month ago, you let me know if and when you will get more levels, because I liked this game.
